

Empathy Map Created by a Creativity for COVID Student Intern

An empathy map created by a D.C. high school student participating in Creativity for COVID, a 6-week remote internship experience where students gain human-centered design experience by working with four local employers.

